A photograph of a building's exterior wall. At the top is a row of red bricks. Below that is a horizontal band of light-colored, textured material. The main part of the wall is a light beige, textured surface. On this wall, the words "Cliff College" and "St. George" are mounted in large, black, three-dimensional letters. The letters have a slight shadow, giving them a 3D appearance. The word "Cliff" is on the first line, "College" is on the second line, and "St. George" is on the third line. The letters are slightly offset to the left.
